ART THERAPY PROGRAM ON TRIAL AT THE GLASSHOUSE

A program to help Alzheimer's sufferers, that has been successfully introduced at the Museum of Modern Art in New York and the National Gallery of Australia in Canberra, is to be trialled at the Glasshouse Regional Art Gallery.

Researchers have found the Art Therapy for Alzheimer's program integrates art education into an Alzheimer's patients therapy plan with positive results for patients who become more alert and talkative following a visit to an art gallery or museum.

The National Gallery, in conjunction with Alzheimer's Australia, will be running a number of workshops at the Regional Gallery in Port Macquarie for Glasshouse gallery staff, neighbouring gallery staff and local art therapists. A number of dementia patients will then attend the gallery for guided tours of the NSW Parliament Art Prize featuring Aboriginal art from around the state.

Following the two day workshop, a six week pilot program will commence for local patients and their carers which will involve taking small groups through during quiet times to ensure minimum distraction. Council is very pleased to be part of this program which, if implemented, could help the growing number of people in our community with Alzheimer's disease.
